

Section 12J faq

What is a Section 12J company?

A Venture Capital Company as described in Section 12J of the Income Tax Act, which came into operation with effect from 1 July 2009. Section 12J is a tax-based incentive designed to encourage individual and corporate investors to invest in a range of small and medium size companies by investing through Section 12J. The aim of the incentive is to create a pooling mechanism of passive investors who get an upfront tax deduction for stimulating the South African economy.

When can the tax deduction be claimed?

An investment into an approved Section 12J company is 100% tax deductible in the tax year you invest.

How can I obtain my tax relief?

Investors can claim the tax relief by either reducing their estimate of taxable income when submitting provisional tax returns or by obtaining a tax refund through the annual income tax assessment.

What do I need to give to SARS or my Tax Advisor to claim the deduction?

Westbrooke will provide each investor with a tax certificate which may be requested as evidence of their investment into a Section 12J company.

Can the tax relief be recouped by SARS?

Only if you sell your shares within 5 years of their being issued, will you incur a recoupment and have the tax relief withdrawn.

What is the annual limit per investor for subscription into a Section 12J company?

An annual limit of R2.5m per individual investor or trust and R5m per company was introduced in 2019.

Does a Section 12J investment carry risk?

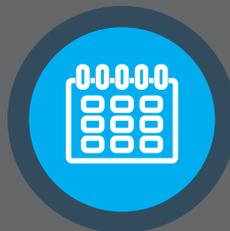

As with any private equity investment, an investment in a Section 12J company carries risk. It's important, therefore, to assess the investment strategy of the Section 12J company to ensure you understand the associated investment risk as well as the expertise and track record of the asset manager.

What is the term of my investment?

The term of the investment will be 5 years, with a realisation period of 18 months (if required).

How long does the Section 12J incentive last for?

The VCC regime, introduced in 2009, is subject to a 12-year sunset period that ends on 30 June 2021. The upfront income tax relief will only apply to VCC shares acquired on or before 30 June 2021. The sunset clause is to be reviewed, and may be extended.

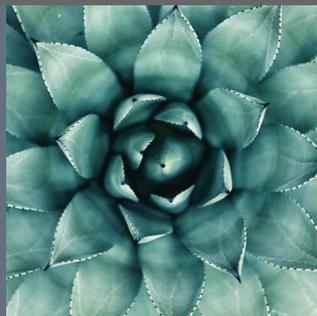

What is the size of the S12J industry?

As at Feb 2019, there has been c. R8.3 billion raised into the Section 12J industry. Westbrooke is SA's largest Section 12J fund manager, managing over c. R2.3 billion of the capital raised in the industry to date.
